

million from the repeal, with heirs of Treasury Secretary Paul H. O'Neill getting as much as $51 million more and heirs of Cheney getting up to $40 million more. Heirs of Enron's Kenneth L. Lay would get $59 million more. Bush, a relative pauper, would leave behind an extra sum of no more than $10 million if the tax were eliminated.

The White House said Waxman's analysis was beside the point.

"Failure to make the tax cuts permanent would increase the taxes on 104 million Americans," Bush spokeswoman Claire Buchan said. "The president thinks that's wrong and that it's wrong to double-tax families, especially at the time of death."

RESPONSE REGARDING SOCIAL SECURITY TRUST FUND

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. BOOZMAN). Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. FOLEY) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. FOLEY. Mr. Speaker, I feel somewhat compelled to at least respond to the last charges that Republicans do not care about Social Security. We do indeed care about Social Security. We have parents. We have grandparents. We care desperately. When the record is explored for people to review, I hope they will know that nine out of 11 times that Social Security was violated, where they actually invaded the trust funds, occurred during Democratic Presidencies and Democratically controlled Congresses. We will show the record. We will show in detail where moneys were taken from the Social Security Trust Fund and used to offset other budget issues.

Let me also remind the gentlewoman from Ohio (Ms. KAPTUR) they never talk about the spending bills that they have encouraged on this floor. Repeatedly, time and time again, we hear motions to rise, motions to adjourn, some 9, 10, 15 a day, because they are unhappy with the spending levels in the bills. They insist more money be added to each and every appropriation bill, and it happens time and time again.

During the Presidency of Mr. Clinton, constantly bills were vetoed because they did not have enough spending money. They try to put it all on the backs of those who choose to put the money back in the pockets of the American taxpayer. I am one of those that is proud to give money back into the families' pockets in America, those who best spend the money on their families, on their children, on their futures. But to sit here and blame Republicans and insist or insinuate we do not care about Social Security is absolutely false, absolutely false. We are not privatizing Social Security. We are strengthening it. And if the Democrats would participate in cutting spending on some wasteful programs, we may actually make some progress.

We are committed to the war on terrorism. We are committed to supporting our President in fighting this war on terrorism. And I am committed to spending the money to eradicate al Qaeda, and I am prepared to spend the money to support our men and women in uniform fighting for us here and abroad. I am prepared as a Member of this body to do what it takes to ensure the survival of this country and its citizens; and I am also committed to fighting for Social Security, as is every Republican.

My colleague, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. SHAW), chairs the committee and he cares about Social Security. All of us face constituents that are in their senior years. My parents may be watching, who are drawing Social Security. I care about them deeply.

So if we are going to have a record on Social Security spending, bring it on. If we are going to talk about deficits, bring it on, 40 years of deficits. Bring that debate to this floor, and I will match them word for word, dollar for dollar. I will show the Members where it has been spent for 40 years.

We balanced the budget in 5 years. We brought tax relief to American families. We strengthened education. We are improving Medicare. We are solidifying Social Security. The temerity of the other party to sit here and scare seniors is appalling.

It is appalling to scare seniors, who should be enjoying their retirement. Instead, they rattle out these charts and threaten financial collapse, and suggest and use names of people who have disrupted their own companies. Go ahead and mention Enron; go ahead and mention those crooks. They are crooks; they stole from their companies and their shareholders. That is not our fault. They were cheats and we should punish them. I will join in a chorus of outrage against those corporate mischievous people.

But I will not stand by and listen to this demagoguery that we have plundered Social Security, because the record will in fact reflect, as I stated at the beginning, nine of the 11 times Social Security was violated were by Democratic administrations, Democratic Congresses.

Bring it on, I am ready, because I love this country. I love our seniors. I come from a senior district, and I will work tirelessly to ensure that not only do they receive their checks, but we will balance the initiatives for all Americans, young and old, rich and poor. No class warfare; quit pointing fingers.

Let us do the heavy lifting. If we want to cut spending, we can save Social Security and the budget. If they want to keep spending like drunken sailors, then they will have the kind of deficits they have had for 40 years when they ran the place.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. BOOZMAN). Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. GUTKNECHT) is recognized for 5 minutes.
